DISCUSSION

Vincent (Vince) Morici is retiring after 36 years with the County of San Luis Obispo, all of those years in the County Administrative Office.

Vince was hired as permanent status in the Environmental Coordinator's Office, then a division of the Administrative Office, in September 1981. Prior to his permanent status Vince worked as a temporary help Environmental Specialist in the Environmental Coordinator's Office from July 1979 until his permanent status hiring in September 1981. Vince then moved on to other positions in the Administrative Office, as an Emergency Services Coordinator in the Office of Emergency Services from December 1987 until August 2000 and again from September 2013 until his retirement. Vince worked as an Administrative Analyst in the Administrative Office from August 2000 to September 2013.

Vince has performed many roles during his 36 years and has developed a wealth of historical knowledge that will certainly be missed and hard to replace. As an Administrative Analyst, Vince represented the Administrative Office as liaison to many various County departments throughout the years, as well as many challenging projects. Only one example was Vince's significant involvement with the challenging process of shifting the Courts from the County to the State.

As an Emergency Services Coordinator, Vince was extensively involved with the nuclear power plant emergency preparedness program, general emergency planning and preparedness, training many agencies and staff, and handled many administrative tasks. These administrative tasks in recent years have included the federal Homeland Security Grant Program, for which OES coordinates on behalf of various County departments such as Public Health, County Fire, and the Sheriff's Office, among others, as well as involved cities. The grants are extremely challenging due to the many Federal and State imposed requirements.

He has also been involved with a number of items that have come full circle during his career. For example as an Emergency Services Coordinator in the early 1990s he was involved with assisting to coordinate development between the County, all cities, and various special districts of the initial San Luis Obispo County Regional Hazardous Materials Team Joint Powers Agreement, which resulted in formation of the team. In 2015, Vince again worked with fire chiefs and others throughout the county to reformulate and develop a new Hazardous Materials team Joint Powers Agreement among all cities, special districts, and the County; this was the first revision since the original was approved in the early 1990s.

Vince played an important role in the County Environmental Coordinator's Office in his early years and ironically – since he would later work in County OES - was involved with the environmental review of the then newly planned Emergency Operations Center that we continue to use today.
